Dear Tracy,

He Huarahi Tamariki is a school for teenage parents, it provides a second chance education for students unable to complete their formal education through pregnancy or the birth of a child. Located in Linden, He Huarahi Tamariki is a purpose built complex which includes Kids Count, an Early Childhood Centre, catering for the children of our students.

We are very fortunate to work with a number of agencies, including KCA. We have been gratefully receiving donations since July 2014. These donations come in many forms, from clothing and winter blankets to weekly deliveries of milk, bread, produce and much more. These are either intended for our students to take home for their whanau or for use in our school kitchen to provide daily nutritious school meals.

We want to give special acknowledgement to the fantastic team of volunteers at KCA, whom without their time and effort, we would not have the opportunity to create and provide such a supportive learning environment and sense of community for our students. We especially realise this has been challenging of late, and appreciate all that KCA has done to continue to operate effectively through the pandemic.

We are more than happy to recommend your services to anyone, and often talk fondly about KCA when we have visitors and new students to our complex and also when we are presenting publicly to other groups.

Ngā mihi
